

DEBBI SNAX

Artist Statement

My journey as a professional artist began with the most intimate canvas-skin. Growing up in Atlanta, I've seen the city's unique culture inspire countless creative voices. I unearthed a passion for storytelling and discovered the power of permanent artistic expression. This passion has guided me and carried my art to larger, and more diverse audiences than I ever imagined.

I strive to connect deeply with viewers, my art is the essence of who I am. Embracing vibrant colors, accessorizing the often overlooked, and using my machines and canvases to push boundaries, are my ways of transmuting my experiences and connecting with the community. Whether adorning a body, a wall, or a canvas, my art aims to spark conversations and leave lasting impressions.

Inspiration finds me and individuality guides me. My creative practice is one of continuous exploration. My art is constantly evolving across various mediums – from the intimacy of tattoo needles to the expansive possibilities of acrylics and paper. This constant rebirth guarantees my work remains fresh and my own personal experiences motivate me to continuously challenge the self-imposed boundaries of traditional art forms.

Ultimately, I believe in art. Art transforms spaces and represents the diverse sub-communities of today's world. Art is forever. Through my tattoos, murals, and installations across Georgia, I strive to Increase the visibility of black art and faces.
